Explosion-proof ATEX tablet

More efficient business processes

Thanks to technological developments and the enormous expansion of mobile applications, (ATEX) tablets have become integral to industry. They contribute to more efficient business processes. Examples are the digitisation of your work preparation, project planning, service and malfunctions, inspections and testing, safety, time registration, declarations and education.

Our ATEX tablets are robust and can be used in ATEX-regulated environments. You can install various applications on our ATEX tablets that enhance efficiency and ease of use on the work floor and ensure process and technology safety.

We can equip the ATEX tablets with a SIM card that includes unlimited calling in the Netherlands and a huge 10 GB data bundle, so you won't have to worry about unexpected costs. The SIM card will be valid throughout the rental period of the ATEX tablets.

Mobile Device Management (MDM) enables you to monitor the integrity of your ICT infrastructure and prevent the undesirable dissemination of confidential information. You can decide whether or not to allow certain apps to be used, thus ensuring efficiency and safety. With the help of location services and a device lock, you can prevent the ATEX tablets from being lost or stolen.
